

CALLING ALL WORLD WAR II VETERANS!!!

AN HONOR ROLL READING is planned for November 10-11, 2010 in conjunction with the upcoming exhibit When Humanity Fails that will be on display in the Melberger Arts Center (MAC) Gallery in Scranton. Although the exhibit celebrates the American GIs who liberated Europe and helped nurture the survivors of Nazi persecution back to life, it will serve as a vehicle to recognize and honor ALL WWII Veterans

Honorary chairs of the program are Senator and Mrs. Robert P. Casey & The Honorable & Mrs. David Wenzel

Whether you were/your loved one was a veteran of the European OR Pacific Theater, please step forward and allow yourself, him or her to be honored this fall.

A comprehensive list of NEPA area World War II Veterans is being compiled to create the Honor Roll for the Reading that will be launched on the eve of Veterans Day at a program at the University of Scranton. Any information you are willing to share to individualize each veteran would be welcome. For example, which branch of the Service did you/the veteran serve in and in what capacity? Did you/the veteran take part in a major battle, would you/the veteran wish to mention an award received, were you/the veteran among troops that entered/liberated a concentration camp, and, if so, which camp?

The information compiled will be shared with county historical societies in order to preserve it for future generations.

Every Veteran – or family member of a deceased veteran – is asked to fill out the form below for inclusion in the Reading.

If you wish to send additional information in the form of a fuller biography, we will be happy to collect those to give to the historical societies along with the basic information. Questions? Call project director Tova Weiss at 570-961-2300, x6 or Rae Magliocchi at x4, or write sljfhrc@epix.net or raerae@epix.net

When Humanity Fails is part of a month-long program called Heroes of Combat and Heroes of Compassion and will be on display October 20–November 20 at the MAC Gallery, 123 Wyoming Avenue, Scranton, during regular Gallery hours. Group tours are welcome and can be arranged by calling Rae at 570-961-2300, x4. The exhibit is presented in cooperation with the Afikim Foundation.
